The Standing Committee, in making their Semi Annual report to the Society would remark — that the Library now consists of 319 bound vols. upwards of 200 pamphlets, besides a number of Manuscript Essays. During the present Session, We have had the Christian Observer, the Christian advocate, & the Evangelical Magazine for 1825, bound — & Tanner's large American Atlas. There have been purchased by order of the Society the following books, viz — The life of Parsons — 2 copies of the life of Brainard, 2 of the life of Martyn, Smith's view of Hebrews & a copy of Wolff's journal. The Society ordered also the purchase of the History of Buenos Ayres, Riepel's tour in Germany, Jowett's researches, & a copy of Wolff's journal, Cecil's life & works & Malte Brun's Geography — provided it can be had for $1. 25/100 per No. — (which we find is impossible. The remaining books will be procured during the Coming vacation. Your Committee have examined the books of the Recording Secretary, and are pleased to say they seldom have seen books kept with greater accuracy and care. The Treasurer's accounts, display the same neatness and correctness, and serve to shew, that we have a balance in the treasury of $27 98/100 current money, exclusive of $7.00 on the State Bank of Trenton.

The Librarian has, with no little trouble been engaged in placing the Library in good order, having furnished himself with a legible Catalogue, and his attention to the duties assigned him, certainly merits our approbation. From the Missionary Box & fines, including the amount rec^d from our predecessors, has been collected $ 6. 38¾/100 — Of which sum, the Comm^ee gave into the hands of Mr. James Holmes for the Chickasaw Mission $3. 50/100 — leaving unappropriated $ 2.88¾.

Also 6 " have been rebound.

3 New Periodicals have been taken during the present year: viz:

The American Baptist Magazine
The United Brethrens Missionary Intelligencer &
The Sailors Magazine, which last was pre-sented. — The Miss. Herald which had been discontinued has been retaken and the back volumes supplied. —

The whole number of Books in the Library is about 381. — Whether any have been lost dur-ing the past year the Librarian is not able cer-tainly to ascertain, on account of the imperfection of the Catalogue and the negligence in specifying in former reports the volumes previously missing. Keith on the Divinity of Christ: — The Triumph of Faith: — and the Columbia Magazine are wanting and the Librarian does not remember having seen either of them during his term of service.

The Librarian would recommend to the Board of Managers to have made out a new and correct catalogue of all the books in the Library. In the present Catalogue there are 40 numbers which have no books opposite them at all, thus making the Library independent of those that are lost, appear to contain 40 volumes more than really belong to it.

With regard to Dr. Millers Lecture on "the importance of the Gospel Ministry" the Librarian would report that he has sold since the abolition of the Publishing Committee, about 29 copies at 6 1/4 Cts. for which he has received $1.81 1/4

For the 3 Lectures mentioned in the report of a former Publishing Com. as given Br. Irving, he had received — — .37 1/2

Of the 50 copies of Dr. millers last lecture all have been sold but 13, at 12 1/2 Cts 4.62 1/2

For fines the Librarian has received — 3.75

Whole amount in the Librarians hands $10.56 1/4

Under the trifling disadvantage produced by this change they report however, that, as far as Records shew, the Committee for the early part of the year discharged their duties with fidelity. The Committee now in existence have attended to the duties assigned them as far as practicable. They have not filed the letters received; as the Corresponding Secretaries, after notice through the Board of Managers, have neglected to deliver such letters to the Committee. They have endeavoured without complete success to obtain such Books as the Board had previously ordered. They have drawn from the Treasury, monies to the amount of $122.46¼ for the following objects: for Books, $77.11¾. for Binding books - $4.62 - for transcribing Obituaries $4.68 for Postage, $16.10¾ - for Freight Coal &c. $9.94. - for the Old Reading Room $10.00. —— The Com. have examined the Treasurers books, and find them correctly Rept, [except the payment of $2.50 which they have not ordered, & for which they find no Rcpt. among the Treasurers papers.] See Dec. 1st

They have examined the Library & find it greatly increased, & in excellent order.

They have also examined the Secretarys Books, & find the Records correctly Rept, & neatly transcribed.

"When the Almighty is pleased to afflict his Church by removing faithful and able men from stations of great apparent usefulness, it becomes those who are left to ponder the dispensation and solemnly to enquire why the Chastisement was inflicted. With this view, we, as members of the Society of Inquiry, deem it our duty to learn from the death of our late lamented brother and, vice president, Joseph W. Barr, the salutary lesson which it teaches. We also desire to improve this event for the good of others, therefore be it

Resolved - That a Committee of three be appointed by the President, who, together with himself, shall endeavour to engage one of our Professors to preach to us a Sermon instructing us as to the best mode in which we should improve this dispensation.

Resolved - That the aforesaid Committee and the President be instructed to prepare, or cause to be prepared, an address from the Society of Inquiry to the Presbyterian ~~Church~~ and Congregational Churches of the U.S. with the view of leading them to a course of feeling and action appropriate to the striking act of Providence in removing our late brother. Society met and was opened with prayer by Bother Sabar-

Minutes of the last meeting of the Society and of the Board of Managers were read and with correction accepted. Bro. Janvier presented the following report of the Board on the letter from Mr Armstrong, which was adopted and ordered to be sent in the letter of the Comm. on For. Miss. to the Missionaries in the Sandwich Islands — *

"Resolved. 1. That with respect to the

* For the letter of Mr. Armstrong, and the accompanying resolutions, on which the opinion of the Society was specially requested, See Book of Cor. Sec. on For. M resolutions, while we recognize in them much of the true Missionary spirit, and a commendable zeal for the progress of the cause of Christ, they are also deeply pervaded by a spirit of dictation unbecoming the authors of them: that some of them are founded on erroneous views of the state of the church in this land, & that upon the whole they are calculated to produce results far other than those contemplated by their authors: injurious, not beneficial to the cause of missions.

Resolved, II. That we fully believe that the members of the S. I. Mission are ardently desirous to promote in this country the spirit of that cause in which as a Society we profess to be engaged: that we deeply regret that they should through misapprehensions of the case, take measures directly tending to thwart our object, viz. the promotion of the missionary spirit in this Seminary, & in the church.

Resolved, III. That the points chiefly objectionable are as follows:

1. That the spirit of dictation assumed in the preamble & the resolutions might with great advantage to the cause have given way to a spirit of fraternal expostulation & entreaty: because those Christians who are not awake & alive to the importance of the subject will rather turn away in disgust from such language, while those who are, will feel that it is unwarrantable as applied to themselves.

2. The first resolution is too general: Taken in its most obvious sense, we do not consider it true: for we believe that the church has all the important apparatus in motion, if we regard the outlines of her plan: that that plan is not filled up, is a matter of regret with her, equally with ourselves.

3. That the second resolution, if understood literally, cannot and will not be received by the church, for we do not believe that duty allows us to live here precisely in the same way, in which we should live, were we in heathen lands: for it is impossible to sustain and advance civilization, without some attention to the refinements of life; the tendency of the mind being to rise no higher than the objects with which it holds intercourse. While it is equally unquestionable that Christians generally in this land do not in any measure compared with their duty deny themselves for the sake of Christ & the heathen.

4. The statement with which the third resolution commences, is at best of very doubtful correctness, it is certainly not true in any sense which the church can appreciate: as to what follows, while there are individual churches which might sustain several missionaries, there are multitudes of churches besides, that would be utterly unable to sustain one missionary each. The fourth resolution is unquestionably true. But the duty of Christians to "honour the Lord with their substance" has never been disputed.

5. The statement contained in the fifth resolution we consider fully contradicted & set aside, by the fact that more than thirty missionaries, under the care of the American Board alone, besides many connected with other boards, have been detained from going to foreign lands, & are now waiting; for want of funds to carry them. With the spirit of the sixth, we most fully accord, believing that when the church does her duty to the heathen, then only will she prosper at home.

6. The seventh resolution we entirely approve, believing that it accords with reason & the word of God.

7. That the cause though just censure contained in the eighth resolution on a spirit of "contempt for men, on account of their imbecility & degradation & colour", is entirely uncalled for. The existence of such a spirit is not the true cause why so little is accomplished for the perishing heathen, since it is only on account of their moral imbecility & degradation" & exposure to eternal woe, that any devote their lives or contribute their mite to promote their "elevation & salvation." A want of extended information on missionary subjects, lukewarmness in religion generally, & a love of wealth & the pleasures & luxuries of this life, we believe to be the causes, why the church does no more for the conversion of the world. But, if the Eighth resolution be intended as an animadversion on American slavery, we consider it exceedingly improper for Missionaries in a foreign land, who must from the nature of the case be to a great extent strangers to our circumstances, to dictate to the church in this country on a subject so exciting & perplexing: & we view their doing so as an unwarrantable interference. Admitting at the same time, as we fully do, that differences of colour & condition in life, are not & cannot be recognized by the Christian as any ground for withholding his love & benevolence.

8. Inasmuch as the 9th Resolution appears very ambiguous, we prefer to pass it without comment.

Resolved, III. That Resolution first (I.) may be considered as expressing the sentiments of this Society, in regard to the letter received from Mr. Armstrong.

The following Committees read ten minute reports - Com. on

For. Miss. Com. on Sailors, Soldiers & Africans and the Com. on Domestic Missions.
